The Solo String Competition is open to University of Arizona undergraduate and graduate violin, viola, cello, and bass students. This year’s repertoire celebrates works written after 1950 by underrepresented composers. This competition awards first prizes and honorable mentions for two separate levels: undergraduate and graduate.

First Prize Graduate Level: $1000
First Prize Undergraduate Level: $1000

This event is made possible by the generous philanthropy of Julie Gibson, longtime friend of the Fred Fox School of Music.
